Pillatre Campus ready for new school year

For many in the states, schools have been in session for several weeks. However, the school on our Pillatre campus is just getting back into session. The students are coming back to several areas being spruced up thanks to work completed over the summer by HCM teams and staff. Last month we highlighted some of the work done in the classrooms by the team that went down in July that included painting outside and inside many of the classrooms.

One of the larger updates over the summer was the replacement of the main generator. The old generator was in need of updating and we were blessed to be able to replace it in June. We are hopeful that this will continue to supply power for our campus for many years to come. In an area that does not have reliable power generation and transmission, this piece of equipment is very valuable in keeping the power going.

Speaking of needing power, additional updates were completed in the computer lab. As technology continues to grow throughout the world, we want the students to have access to learn and grow. We are very thankful to Cliff for his many hours of work in getting the lab setup and up to date.

Finally, there were updates made in the kitchen area to help with food preparation. We know this part of the school day is a favorite for many of the children! For many, this may be the only full meal they get of the day. Providing this meal is such an important part of our mission and we know that providing additional resources in making this meal is welcomed by our wonderful kitchen staff.

Would you continue to pray for all the staff, teachers, and students at Pillatre as we begin this year? Pray for wisdom for the teachers as they shape the next generation of Haitians. Pray for the students that they will learn academically as well as grow in their faith. Pray for the staff as they support the teachers and students and they continue to feel God working in their midst.
